

Ed Is Fat

Felix and Ed are friends; they are good friends. Ed is an elephant. He is really big and the color gray. Ed is nice, patient and hardworking.

Felix is also the color gray. But he is very different from Ed. Ed is an elephant and Felix is a mouse. Ed is very big and Felix is small. Ed is nice, patient and hardworking. Felix is mean, impatient, and lazy.

Ed and Felix are in the park. They like to be in the park. They like to watch the people in the park. They also like to listen to music and talk.

Felix looks at his friend Ed. Ed is much bigger than Felix, especially in his stomach. Felix thinks that is a problem.

"You are very fat, Ed," Felix says.

Ed is surprised. Ed is an elephant, so he is obviously big! Ed is sad and he thinks that Felix is mean. But then he looks at his stomach.

"Maybe I am a little fat," Ed thinks.

Ed doesn't want to be fat. Ed wants to be normal. Ed is very hardworking, so he decides to run. He runs in the park. He listens to fast music and runs. He runs for two hours every morning.

Ed also decides to eat good food. He eats salads. He eats fruits and vegetables. He does not eat bad food.

Felix doesn't run. He is very lazy and he doesn't like to run. Felix doesn't run in the park. Felix watches T.V. in his house. He watches T.V. for eight (8) hours every day.

Felix doesn't eat good food. He doesn't like salads. Felix goes to McDonald's. In McDonald's he eats cheeseburgers and french fries. He eats a lot of cheeseburgers and a lot of french fries with ketchup. He does not eat fruits or vegetables. He eats bad food because it is delicious.

After six (6) weeks, Ed goes to Felix's house. He goes to Felix's house because Felix doesn't go to the park. Ed wants to see his friend. Ed runs to Felix's house.

Felix is watching T.V. and eating a cheeseburger when he sees Ed. Ed is running!

“Wow, Ed! You are very skinny!” Felix says.

Ed is happy. He likes to run. He likes good food and he likes his figure. Ed looks at Felix. Felix has parts of a cheeseburger on his big stomach. Felix is super fat! But, Ed is a good friend so he simply says, “Thanks, Felix. You are a good friend. Can I have a french fry?”
